++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry and bright.

Today:
A chilly start with a frost and some patchy mist and fog. Otherwise bright with good sunny spells, although cloud building for a time. Feeling pleasant in any afternoon sunshine, winds remaining light. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Any cloud will quickly fade away to leave a dry and chilly night with clear skies and a rural frost. A few mist and fog patches possible by dawn. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Thursday:
Bright with plenty of sunshine. After a chilly start it will feel rather warm in afternoon sunshine, although onshore winds will keep it cool around the Irish Sea coast. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Mainly dry and bright on Friday. A bright start in the east on Saturday, but rain soon reaching Fermanagh and pushing steadily east. Cloudy with patchy rain and drizzle Sunday.
